WHO AM I ANYWAY?

the INTRODUCTION

I am a deep rooted local. I was born at John C. Lincoln hospital in North Phoenix. My family lives all over the Valley from Central Phoenix, Biltmore, North Scottsdale, to Sun Lakes/Chandler, Gilbert, and Peoria. In fact, my dad and step-mom just celebrated their 20 year wedding anniversary and met at Peoria High School. Arizona is and will always be my home base.

I am a top producer. I have been recognized in the Arizona real estate industry as a top performer for many years and also won the Scottsdale's Association of Realtors 40 Under 40 Award.

I am dedicated professional. Since I was a young girl, I always told myself I wanted to make an impact in others lives as a career. Buying a home is a very pivotal moment for most families and more importantly, a big investment. I specialize in helping first time home buyers reach goals and save money, but have worked in all price points. Many commend me for the level of education and resources I provide along with my level of care, honesty, and advocacy.

the PARTNERS

Included in our team is a showing agent, transaction coordinator, and Compass (our national brokerage). We also partner with amazing mortgage lenders and title experts that can help you though the home buying process. Their info is below!

the PROMISE

It's more than just a home, it's personal.

When you work with us, you're not just getting real estate agents; you're getting friends who truly care about your goals. We'll make sure the process is as smooth and stress-free as possible, with clear communication every step of the way. From negotiating the best deals possible, providing expert advice on repairs, to educating you every step of the way, we've got you covered. We're here to negotiate with your best interests at heart, and we won't stop until you're completely happy with the outcome. This isn't just a transaction to us—it's about helping you move forward in your life, and we're honored to be a part of that.

My promise to you is that we will always go above and beyond to understand your needs, ensuring that your experience is not only professional but deeply personal. I'm committed to making your journey as seamless and rewarding as possible.

VALUES: INTEGRITY, EMPATHY, ADVOCACY, DILLIGENCE, PROACTIVENESS.

the JOB

I am proud to say that I am more than just a facilitator of the buying process, I am a crucial protector helping you mitigate risk against potential pitfalls. While I have systems in place to ensure a smooth escrow process and enjoyable home search, at the initial consultation we will deep dive into how I can best serve you specific to your needs. There's no one-size-fits-all approach to your experience.

At a minimum, here's what you can expect from me...

Mondays – Search deep dive

Every Monday I do a search deep dive where we look for opportunities in your search that may check all the boxes.

Wednesdays – Look for off market opportunities

On Wednesdays we look for off market listings.

Friday – Prep for the weekend

On Fridays, we prep for the weekend, follow up on any off market leads, scheduling showings and double checking your search to make sure we didn't miss any new properties!

Examples of additional services I offer custom to your needs and wants...

- Recurring updates via video recording of market trends analysis (based on desired locations)
- Optional one-on-one video calls to review active online inventory together (and sift through your wishlist)
- Off market home sourcing
- Agent/lender financing strategy calls.
- Automated text reminders for appointments, inspections, etc.
- Important education at specific milestones like inspection, appraisal, etc.
- Custom gift celebrations
- Post-closing lifetime access to myself, my tools (value trackers, vendor lists, property sites) community events, and network of vendors
- And SO much more...

the CONTINGENCIES

01.

INSPECTION PERIOD

The inspection period is a buyer's opportunity to thoroughly assess the property's condition, typically lasting 10 days. During this time, the buyer can negotiate repairs, request concessions, or even cancel the contract if significant issues are uncovered.

02.

APPRAISAL

The appraisal is a professional evaluation of the property's market value, typically required by the buyer's lender to ensure the home is worth the agreed-upon price. If the appraisal comes in lower than expected, it may lead to renegotiation of the price or terms of the sale.

03.

DISCLOSURES

The seller legally needs to disclose material facts about the property. Upon receipt of their disclosures you have an oppportunity to back out of the transaction. If any changes to the property occur the seller will need to re disclose. There are also other disclosures associated with the home such as HOA documents, lead based paint, and others.

04.

LOAN

A loan contingency protects the buyer by making the purchase dependent on securing financing from a lender within a specified timeframe. If the buyer is unable to obtain a loan, the contingency allows them to cancel the contract without penalty and recover their earnest money.

the OFFER

An Arizona Purchase Contract for a buyer outlines the terms and conditions of the home purchase and serves as a legally binding agreement between the buyer and seller. Here's an overview of what's included:

1. Purchase Price and Financing
- The agreed-upon purchase price and details of how the buyer will finance the purchase (e.g., cash, conventional loan, FHA, or VA loan).
- The buyer's obligations regarding earnest money, down payment, and closing costs.

2. Property Description
- A detailed description of the property, including the address, legal description, and what is included in the sale (appliances, fixtures, etc.).

3. Earnest Money Deposit
- Specifies the amount of earnest money the buyer will deposit to show serious intent and how it will be handled in case of default or cancellation.

4. Inspection Period
- Outlines the buyer's right to inspect the property and the timeframe (typically 10 days) for conducting inspections and due diligence.
- Provides the option for the buyer to request repairs or cancel the contract based on inspection findings.

5. Disclosures
- Details the seller's obligation to provide the buyer with necessary disclosures, such as the Seller's Property Disclosure Statement (SPDS), lead-based paint disclosure (if applicable), and any other material facts related to the property.

6. Title and Escrow
- Outlines how the title will be conveyed to the buyer (typically with a clear and marketable title) and the role of the escrow company in handling funds, documents, and closing procedures.

7. Contingencies
- Includes important contingencies such as the loan contingency (if financing is required), appraisal contingency, and the ability for the buyer to cancel the contract without penalty if certain conditions aren't met.

8. Closing Date
- Specifies the agreed-upon date by which the sale must close, and the property is officially transferred to the buyer.

9. Possession
- Outlines when the buyer will take possession of the property (usually at closing or as otherwise agreed upon).

10. Prorations and Closing Costs
- Details how expenses like property taxes, HOA fees, and utilities will be prorated between the buyer and seller at closing.
- Clarifies which party is responsible for specific closing costs (e.g., title insurance, recording fees).

11. Additional Terms and Conditions
- Any additional agreements or contingencies between the buyer and seller, such as seller concessions, warranties, or repairs.

12. Signature and Acknowledgment
- The contract is only binding once signed by both parties, acknowledging agreement to the terms.

This contract is designed to protect both buyer and seller and clearly define the obligations of each party throughout the transaction process.

the NEGOTIATIONS

When making an offer... I look at the following to provide the best understanding of the home's value in comparison to the asking price. Listed below are a few strategieis to make your offer stand out!

MARKET OVERVIEW	ACTIVE, PENDING, SOLDS	DAYS ON MARKET
LIST PRICE/SALES PRICE RATIOS	MONTHS OF INVENTORY	NEGOTIATION OPPORTUNITIES

1. Clean offers are the best.

The less you ask for from the seller, the better your offer will appear compared to others.
Examples:

- Home warranty - This is something you can pay for yourself.
- HOA fees - You can offer to pay these instead of asking the seller.
- Contingencies - If you can get financing without being dependent on the sale of your home, that is the best option, but the further along in the sales process the better if needed.

2. Waive the appraisal.

If you have the ability and cash to pay above appraised value, you can offer to waive it or waive up to a specific amount.

3. Buy the home as-is.

There are many ways to make the inspection clauses work in your favor. For example, you can waive your repair requests or put a dollar amount cap on what you'd ask for (i.e. asking for only safety and mechanical Items).

4. Use an escalation clause.

You can include a price that you would go higher than other received offers, capping out at your highest and best offer price.

5. Accommodate the closing date.

Giving the sellers time to move into their next home is sometimes most important to the seller.

6. Offer a leaseback or post possession.

You can offer the seller a short period of time to stay in the home after closing at a reasonable cost or no cost at all.

7. Utilize earnest money.

The higher the amount, the more serious the seller will feel you are. You can also make the earnest money non-refundable.

8. Negotiate appliances.

Don't ask for the fridge, washer or dryer if the seller would prefer to keep them.

9. Be careful with concessions.

If you absolutely need concessions, increase your offer price by the amount you're asking them to give you (be careful - the home still needs to appraise for the purchase price).

10. Pre-qualification versus pre-approval.

The more information you provide your lender (pay stubs, tax records, bank statements, etc.) the stronger your offer will be. In some cases, lenders can send your files to underwriting prior to making an offer so that you have already received loan approval.

the BUYER ADVISORY

THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT BUYING A HOME IN ARIZONA

The Arizona Buyer Advisory is a valuable document that helps homebuyers make informed decisions by outlining important aspects of the home-buying process and property ownership. It covers the need to review key documents like the purchase contract, seller's property disclosure statement (SPDS), and HOA information. The advisory also emphasizes the importance of property inspections, including general, pest, and specific condition assessments like mold or roof issues. It addresses potential environmental hazards such as asbestos, lead-based paint, and radon, while also informing buyers about property features like sewer connections and floodplain status. Additionally, it highlights the importance of obtaining insurance, understanding title and ownership issues, and considering local area factors like schools, crime rates, and future developments. Finally, the advisory includes legal obligations and resources to further assist buyers in making well-informed choices.

the TYPES OF HOMES

ACTIVELY LISTED HOMES & OPEN HOUSES

These are homes currently listed on the Multiple Listing Service (MLS) and/or available for viewing during scheduled open houses. They range from move-in ready homes to those needing updates.

OFF MARKET HOMES

Compass has a database of WOULD-sell properties. These homes are available only to buyers who are part of our loyalty program. These include off-market homes, previously listed homes, and motivated sellers who do not want their home publicly advertised.

NEW CONSTRUCTION

New construction options are great for customization and modern living. Home builders represent their best interests at all times. You need an advocate to help you save money and not overpay. Let me know in advance if you ever want to visit a new construction property and I can register you for representation and put together a list of builder options.

REHAB HOMES

These are properties that require varying degrees of renovation, from cosmetic updates to complete overhauls. Often sourced through wholesalers or foreclosures, these homes provide an opportunity to customize and add value with a potentially lower upfront purchase cost. Cash for renovations are a must with this property type.

THE ZIP CODES

the COSTS

IMPORTANT: THE EARNEST DEPOSIT IS DUE WITHIN 48 HOURS OF CONTRACT ACCEPTANCE AND APPLIED TOWARDS THE DOWN PAYMENT.

DOWNPAYMENT

The required down payment varies depending on the type of loan. For conventional loans, the down payment is typically 3% to 20%, while FHA loans require as little as 3.5%, VA and USDA loans often require no down payment.

LENDER AND TITLE FEES

Usually 2% to 4% of the loan amount wrapped into closing costs and may include:

Loan Origination Fees: Charged by the lender for processing your loan.

Title Insurance: Protects against issues with the property's title, around $500 to $1,000.

Recording Fees: Charged by the county for recording the home purchase, generally $100 to $250.

PROPERTY INSPECTIONS

Typical property inspections range from $400 - $1000 and are dependent on size of property, age of home and inspections done. Typically we see standard inspections, termite inspections, sewer scopes and pool/spa.

APPRAISAL FEES

The cost of a home appraisal typically ranges from $500 to $600, depending on factors such as the property's size, location, and complexity. In some cases, more extensive properties or those in rural areas may incur higher appraisal fees.

AGENT FEES

Representation fees vary by agent and transaction! Out of pocket expense can be anywhere from $0 - 4%. My goal is get these covered by the seller as much as possible.

THE FORMULA

DOWN PAYMENT	+	INSPECTIONS*	+	APPRAISAL*	+	CLOSING COSTS*	=	TOTAL CASH NEEDED
TBD		$400-800		$500-650		2-3%

the Agreement

SCAN TO SEE SAMPLE AGREEMENT

Buyers Agent Fee – Negotiable!

As a buyer you will need an employment agreement with an agent prior to looking at houses. This agreement will be tied to a commission in most instances and will be negotiated up front. We will negotiate on your behalf to have this fee paid for by the seller.

Sellers Commission Options

Offer A Commission

Sellers can outwardly offer a commission for their listing. If this commission matches our agreement no further negotiation is required and nothing is due from the buyer.

Offer No Commission

If a seller offers no commission we can ask for them to pay for our commission as part of our offer negotiation. If they are not willing to pay any commission this fee will be due by buyer should you want to move forward with the home.

Open To Compensation

A seller can be open to paying a compensation/commission amount but can choose to negotiate the commission as a part of the offer.

"I had such a pleasure working with Naudia throughout my first home buying process. She helped every step of the way from pre-approval to home selection offer and closing. We saved SO much money. Would recommend Naudia to any home buyer or seller that values a strong real estate mind and a passion to help her clients win." - Justin H.

4937 E Cholla Street, Scottsdale, AZ 85254

Original List Price: $1,050,000
Sold Price: $992,500

"Naudia was a true professional during the home buying process. We met Naudia at the open house and knew we wanted this home which she was helping to sell. Not only was she able to help negotiate repairs and the price, but she was a great advocate while we navigated a construction loan. I appreciate your hard work and ability to work with both us and the sellers while still getting us a good deal." - Marissa M.

40368 W Desert Fairways Drive, Maricopa, AZ 85138

Original List Price: $674,995
Sold Price: $601,995
Seller Credits Received: $15,000

"I could not have any better things to say about Naudia. As an agent from Oregon, I was impressed with Naudia's proactive communication and dedication to us as her clients (and now as a friend). Not only did she help us identify the perfect home that fit all of our needs, but she made the process incredibly seamless when dealing with the builder. She made sure all repairs were addressed and got us credits when there was delays. Thank you Naudia for your hard work." - Erin O.
